To Whom It May Concern:

The Helping Hand Company manufactures an extensive range of slings and hanger bars. Each sling and hanger bar sold by the company, is of our own manufacture, made in this country, and is quality controlled and load tested to assure conformity and compliance with relevant current regulations.

In accordance with Medical Devices guidelines regarding supply of lifting/hoisting accessories, The Helping Hand Company has load tested its slings and hanger bars on hoists manufactured by other companies and carried out a risk assessment.

Helping Hand clip slings are fully compatible with Arjo clip hanger bars and Helping Hand clip hanger bars are fully compatible with Arjo clip slings.

Our universal loop fitting slings are intended for use with any hanger bar manufactured for use with Loop slings.

The kloop, clip and loop, slings are compatible with either Arjo clip hangers or any loop hangers.

Should certification for a specific application be required we will be happy to test the application. On completion of a documented test and inspection by our engineers we will be happy to certify the application as safe for use.

Each Sling carries a recommended inspection procedure and directions for safe use.

For information on specific models to which this applies, please contact sales at The Helping Hand Company on the telephone or fax numbers at the heading of this document.

Yours sincerely

Stuart Moore

Chief Engineer
